A novel technique for sinusoidal frequency division, by an integer number, using analog multipliers is presented. The circuit uses no inductors or capacitors and is, therefore, suitable for integration. The circuit can operate at low frequencies over a wide frequency range. Experimental results are given.